PRIZE CANINES RECEIVE MEDALS

Honors Are Awarded to Winners at the Washington Kennel Club Show.

POINTERS ARE FEATURE

Mrs. Thornton O. Crown's St. Bernard Adjudged Best Dog Shown from District by Woman.

The "bow-wow" and yelping of hundreds of dogs which has filled the Arcade for the past three days ceased last night when the most successful dog show that the Washington Kennel Club has yet held came to a close.

All the high-class canines of the show, the blue blood of dogdom, received due honor as a fitting close to the ceremony. The champions were heralded into the ring, and bronze medals presented to their owners. Among them were the best breed of almost every known specie of dog.

E. B. Chase, of Radnor, Pa., the possessor of a quartet of intelligent pointers, was the lucky one in this event. Mrs. Thornton O. Crown, of Washington, received the prize for exhibiting the best dog shown by a woman resident of the District. Her champion St. Bernard was an easy winner both in this event and in the one for the best bred dog in Maryland.

The Medal Winners.

Following is a list of the champions who received medals: St. Bernards—Prince Francis, Mrs. T. O. Crown. Greyhounds—Lansdowne Fiery Fox, Lansdowne Cold Stream, and Lansdowne Artemis, B. F. Lewis, Jr. English setters—Lansdowne Lena, E. B. Chase. Cocker spaniels—Lucky Pose, W. T. Payne. Whippets—Lansdowne Venus, Mrs. T. O. Crown. Collies—Imma Select, Imma Kennel, and Imma Aristotype, W. M. Stephenson. Chow Chows—Fee Cum, Greenacre Kennels. Dalmatians—Lady Macbeth, Miss M. Du Pont. Bulldogs—Princess Merlow, Charles P. Boyd. Fox terriers—Endcliffe Live Rail, J. L. Frothingham. Scottish terriers—Balgownie Laddie, J. B. Haddell. Manchester terriers—Leader, Mrs. Frank Addyman. English toy spaniels—Cottage Classic, Mrs. D. J. Hamilton, and Rosemary Little, Greenacre Kennels. Maltese terriers—MacLead's Little Sweetheart, Mrs. W. W. MacLeod.

Unclassified Winners.

The winners in the unclassified specials last night were: The best dog in the show: Deodora Monarch, Robert Lobban. The best bitch in the show: Mallory Florence, E. B. Chase. The brace of one breed entered and owned by one kennel: Pointers owned by E. B. Chase.

The best local team of four: Irish setters owned by A. J. Cummings.

The best dog of either sex owned and exhibited by a lady resident of the District or the neighboring countries of Virginia or Maryland: Champion Prince Francis, Mrs. Thornton O. Crown.

The best team of four in the show: Pointers of E. B. Chase.

The best bitch entered by a member of the Washington Kennel Club: Brindle, of Winderbourne, Winderbourne Kennels.

The best bitch entered by a resident of the District: Revillo Tad, Lloyd A. Dougan.

The best brace of any breed in the show: Pointers of E. B. Chase.

The best dog bred in Maryland: Prince Francis, Mrs. Thornton O. Crown.

Following is the latest list of owners of prize winning dogs: Miss M. Dupont, Mrs. D. P. Hamblin, J. C. Weeks, Mrs. Samuel Willets, Dr. H. M. Schuffell, P. D. Folwell, W. E. Milford, J. D. HOODOO IS DEFINED BY THIRTEEN CLUB

New York Organization Banquets, Breaks Mirror, and Flirts with Fate.

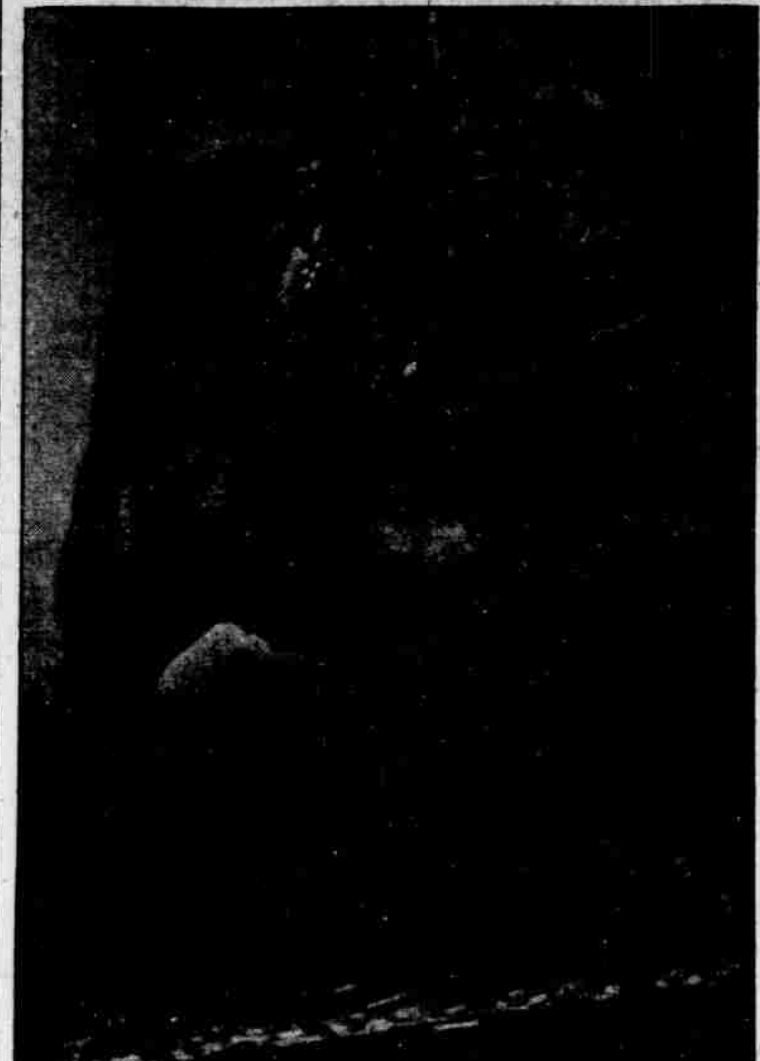

Ill luck was defied and superstitions shattered at the annual out-of-town dinner of the Thirteen Club, of New York, held at the New Varnum Hotel last night. The club members, 130 strong, arrived from New York in a special train at 11:15 Friday night, and spent yesterday seeing the sights in and about Washington. Their entire programme has been arranged with an eye to using the figure thirteen as often as possible.

Despite these things, which might be considered killers by the superstitious, the members of the Thirteen Club seemed to thoroughly enjoy their pastime of battling the fates, as well as the more usual features of the banquet. There was no formal speaking programme, but short talks were made by Tax Commissioner M. J. Langan, of the Borough of Richmond; Louis N. Dannitan, and Dr. W. E. MacMurrough. The officers of the Thirteen Club are Dr. Arthur Lehmann, chief ruler; State Senator John W. Russell, first vice ruler; P. W. Heroy, second vice ruler; A. W. Brown, architect; Col. John F. Hobbs, historian; Charles Hudthwohl, controller; Hon. George H. McAdam, intendant; J. E. Richardson, custodian; Charles Lyon Russell, scribe, and John H. Davis, gossamer. The purpose of the club is to combat superstition, but to do so in a social way and most often through satire. It has a membership of 213.

Tomorrow will be given over to sight-seeing, and the party will leave for New York at 12 minutes to 5 in the evening.

MRS. PANKHURST, STARVED, IS FREE

Suffrage Leader Released from English Jail in Fear She Might Die.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Head of Militants Ate No Food for Nine Days—Violence to Continue.

London, April 12.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, president of the women's social and political union and leader of the militant suffragettes, who was sentenced to three years on April 3, for inciting women to blow up the home of Chancellor David Lloyd-George with bombs, was released from Holloway jail today after serving nine days of her sentence.

Mrs. Pankhurst's release was brought about by a physical collapse brought on by a "hunger strike." Not a mouth full of solid food passed the lips of the famous militant during her stay in Holloway jail, although she drank water in large quantities. During the first week of her fast, Mrs. Pankhurst bore up so well under her abstinence from food that the prison doctors believed that she had carried food tablets into jail secretly and was sustaining herself upon them.

Mrs. Pankhurst was very weak when she was liberated from the prison, and her friends feared that she will suffer serious consequences.

Mrs. Pankhurst was sentenced by Justice Lush, in old Bailey Court, on April 3, and immediately was taken to Holloway jail.

Taken to Hospital.

Sylvia Pankhurst, a daughter of the militant leader, was notified of her mother's release, and had Mrs. Pankhurst removed to a private nursing home.

"My mother is in very bad health," declared Sylvia Pankhurst, "and was subjected to brutal treatment in prison by physicians and wardresses, who attempted to feed her forcibly when she refused to eat voluntarily. She is very weak, and we fear that she will suffer permanently from the treatment she has undergone."

News of the release of the leader of the "cause" brought great rejoicing to the headquarters of the Women's Social and Political Union. However, it was made clear that violence would not cease. Lieutenants of Mrs. Pankhurst declared that militant methods would be pursued until the government yielded to the pressure and granted the franchise to women.

Phyllis Brady and Militant Dean, two suffragettes arrested in Mitcham on April 4 for carrying implements of destruction upon their persons, were released today and a sentence of six months' imprisonment imposed on each.

When arraigned Phyllis Brady insisted her name was "Miss Durell." Quantities of patent fire lighters, kerosenes, gunpowder and other articles were found in the possession of the girls.

Militants got busy throughout the day at London, where they poured acid into the letter slot in the postoffice, destroying a large quantity of mail.

MISS KELLER TO SPEAK.

Wonderful Blind Scholar to Address Audience at Belasco.

Miss Helen Keller arrived in Washington last night and will speak tonight at the Belasco Theater on the subject, "The Heart and The Hand." She is visiting Mrs. Philip S. Smith, of 229 Newark Street Northwest.

Miss Keller was born deaf and blind. At seven years of age she learned to read and write and since then her life has been a series of triumphs over almost insurmountable obstacles.

Alexander Graham Bell, for many years a friend of Miss Keller, will introduce her and her teacher, Mrs. John Macy, tonight.

ART LOVERS CROWD CORCORAN GALLERY

Private Exhibit of Washington Society of Artists Is Well Attended.

Love of art and fear of the weather have no kinship, and a number of artists and lovers of the brush and palette braved the lowering skies last night to attend the private show of the twenty-second annual exhibit of the Washington Society of Artists in the hemicycle of the Corcoran Art Gallery. The exhibition will be thrown open to the public today, and the pictures will remain on view until April 25.

There are 116 canvases and eight pieces of sculpture in the show. The awards were made Friday. "The Road in Winter," by Edward W. Redfield, won the gold medal; "June," by John F. Carlson, took the silver medal, and "Quebec," by Everett L. Warner, the bronze. The pictures that received honorable mention were "Morning on the River," by Bayard H. Taylor; "Three Friends," by William Dexter Closson, and "Old Country Farm Bridge," by Chauncey F. Ryder. In addition there are many fine canvases among which Alice Kent Stoddard's "First Monday in Spring" and Charles Rosen's "First Snowfall" are attracting especial attention.

WATERS COVER TWO COUNTIES

Big Levee Breaks and Flood Does Great Damage in Arkansas.

GOVERNORS DIRECT WORK

Two Executives Direct Strengthening of Dykes on Lower Mississippi—Missouri Is on Rampage.

Memphis, April 12.—The main levee protecting Lake Jefferson and Red Fork, Ark., on the Arkansas River, fifty miles from where that stream empties into the Mississippi, broke today. The water will flood parts of Desha and Clift counties, Ark., and will put railroad lines out of commission that extend south from Helena along the Mississippi. This break will afford no relief to the main dyke New along the Mississippi River.

Gov. Fulton of Arkansas may call a special session of the Legislature to provide relief for flood sufferers in that State. Gov. Earl Brewer of Mississippi is at Rosedale to take personal charge of levee work at that point, and will go to Beulah, where a weak spot has given the engineers much concern. Gov. Brewer was prompted to action by flood warnings issued by Observer Cline at New Orleans, who said the flood in the Mississippi would be the most disastrous ever known.

Suffering in Arkansas. Considerable suffering is reported among refugees around Edmondson, Ark., and part of the relief fleet has moved to that point. Many of the refugees are expected to be brought to Memphis, where they will be sent to Camp Humphreys.

President Killough, of the St. Francis levee board, reports every foot of the levee from Wilson to Graves Boyou as still holding, and says that from Graves Boyou to the mouth of the White River everything is in good condition. The gauge at Memphis tonight shows a slight fall for the day. The river was falling from New Madrid to Osceola, but several places south of the latter town reported it as stationary.

Normal Conditions in Two Weeks.

Conditions along the Ohio River will be normal in two weeks, according to the statement sent to the War Department by Major Rhonda, in charge of the United States Army's work around Dayton. The dispatch received yesterday announced that

Dr. McCampbell, secretary of the Ohio State Board of Health, soon will be put in charge of the work.

MISSOURI NEAR FLOOD STAGE; DANGER IN COUNCIL BLUFFS

Omaha, Neb., April 12.—The Missouri River is within eighteen inches of the flood stage in Omaha and is still rising. In the past three days the stream has risen seven and one half feet. The crest of the flood will reach Omaha Monday. The water tonight threatens to cut off the Council Bluffs water pumping station from the mainland, and grave fears are entertained for residences upon the lowlands in the western portion of that city. A number of small houses along the water front in Omaha were today flooded, and the residents were forced to move. There is no danger of any serious damage in this city.

GARRISON NAMES MEN TO STUDY QUESTION OF FLOOD PREVENTION

Secretary of War Garrison yesterday appointed Col. Francis R. Shunk, of Pittsburg; Lieut. Col. Henry Jervoy, of Cincinnati; Maj. Charles S. Bromwell, of Cleveland; Maj. John C. Oakes, of Louisville; Maj. Fred W. Altstattler, of Wheeling; and Maj. L. H. Band, of Cincinnati, a committee of five to investigate the possibilities of preventing floods along the Ohio River valley. Col. Shunk has been put in charge of the work. The committee will prepare a survey and report on the valley, which will be submitted to Congress for its approval.

CAIRO STORES OPEN.

Cairo, Ill., April 12.—All business houses and saloons opened at noon today and Cairo began to take on a normal appearance again. The Ohio fell two-tenths today, and a rapid fall is expected from now on.

The Naval Reserves returned to Chicago today, while the government forces, under Lieut. S. B. Buckner, departed for Memphis. But one company of Illinois National Guard remain on duty here.

Poor Outlook for Relief Bills.

Relief bills for Ohio and Indiana flood sufferers and Omaha, Neb., tornado victims will have hard sledding in the House. Chairman Fitzgerald, of the House Appropriations Committee, said yesterday that he was opposed to the passage of appropriation measures of the kind suggested. The tentative bills provide for the appropriation of $2,500,000 by the Federal government.

Italians Help Flood Sufferers.

Fifty dollars for the benefit of the flood sufferers was given by the Italian society, Umberto Primo, through Giuseppe Verdi, the secretary. The amount was sent to the Red Cross.

GIRL TRIES SUICIDE FOLLOWING REBUKE

Corrine Hendrix, Punished by Mother, Inhales Gas but Pulmotor Revives Her.

Pouting because her mother had punished her, Corrine Hendrix, the pretty fourteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hendrix, of 1104 K Street Northeast, attempted to end her life yesterday afternoon by inhaling illuminating gas. Only the prompt use of the pulmotor saved her.

About 3 o'clock Corrine asked permission to go out for a walk, but her mother refused. The girl said that she simply wanted to go out and have the heels of her shoes straightened, but her mother told her to wait until later in the afternoon. She became stubborn, punishment resulting.

Her mother told her to go up to her room and remain there until afternoon. Shortly after 4 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Hendrix, who were downstairs in one of the front rooms of the house, heard a muffled scream and rushing upstairs found the girl in an unconscious condition. Gas was flowing from the jet in the room.

An ambulance in charge of Dr. Nally rushed to the house and by the aid of a pulmotor she was revived. At the Casualty Hospital she told the nurses and doctors that after her mother had punished her she didn't care to live any longer. She told the nurses she climbed on her bed, put her mouth over the jet and then turned on the gas.

Corrine will be able to return home today. Her parents are at a loss to understand her action, saying that she had never before revolted against home discipline.

SENATE EMPLOYE GUILTYLESS.

Carl A. Loeffler, acting assistant doorkeeper of the Senate, was exonerated yesterday by the members of the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections in connection with charges made against him a month ago by Senator Gore of Oklahoma.

Loeffler was charged with having been responsible for the disappearance of a certificate of deposit, which was one of the principal pieces of evidence against former Senator Lorimer in the first trial of the Illinois Senator on bribery charges.

Mississippi Rising Below Memphis.

The Mississippi River continues to fall at Memphis and rise below that point, according to the Weather Bureau today. At Cairo the Ohio was reported at 54 feet, a fall of three-tenths of a foot in twenty-four hours. Elsewhere the situation was unchanged.
